

$11,000 back-pay for north-east Tas workers

16 March 2012

Two workers in Tasmania's north-east have been back-paid a total of $11,600 following recent intervention by the Fair Work Ombudsman.

The largest recovery was $6300 for a manager at George Town.

The male employee in his 40s lodged a complaint with the Fair Work Ombudsman after he was underpaid wages in lieu of notice when his employment was terminated.

After an inspector contacted the business and explained its obligations, the employee was reimbursed all money owed without the need for further action.

In another case, a worker at Scottsdale has been back-paid $5300 after he was underpaid long service leave entitlements.

The Fair Work Ombudsman recovered a total of $858,000 back-pay for 1186 underpaid workers in Tasmania last financial year. Nationally, the Agency recouped $26.7 million for 17,360 employees.

Fair Work Ombudsman Nicholas Wilson says that when Fair Work inspectors identify a problem and contact a business, most employers check their records, realise a problem has occurred, and fix it immediately.

"We're here to assist and give practical advice to employers on how to voluntarily resolve issues," Mr Wilson says.

"These Tasmanian businesses have now corrected the errors that led to the underpayments and put processes in place to ensure it will not happen again."

Mr Wilson says that the Fair Work Ombudsman's Assisted Voluntary Resolution team is now achieving resolution of about half its referrals within the first month.

Workers or employers seeking support should get in touch with the Fair Work Ombudsman via the website – www.fairwork.gov.au - or call the Fair Work Infoline on 13 13 94. A free interpreter service is available on 13 14 50.

Free documentation is available Online for employers to use when hiring, managing and dismissing staff, including letters of engagement and probation, timesheet and pay slip templates, leave application forms, a self-audit check list and workplace complaint form.

The website has a number of tools and resources, including PayCheck Plus and an Award Finder, to assist business-owners to calculate the correct pay for their employees.

An 'Industries' section on the website provides extra, specialised information for employers and employees in the retail, cleaning, clerical, hair and beauty, security, vehicle, horticulture, fast food and hospitality industries.
