

Supporting working parents

The Australian Human Rights Commission has launched a new website to promote the understanding of rights and obligations in the workplace around pregnancy, parental leave and return to work.

The new Supporting working parents \(http://www.supportingworkingparents.gov.au/\) website offers employees and employers tailored information on a range of workplace issues affecting working parents including:

- help with understanding the law
- information for pregnant employees and pregnancy in the workplace
- commencing and coming back from parental leave
- commencing or ending employment as a parent or while on parental leave.

The website also has downloadable quick guides, checklists and toolkits to help employers to support working parents and employees to know their rights.

Visit the new website now: Supporting working parents (http://www.supportingworkingparents.gov.au/)

Page reference No: 5488

Contact us

Fair Work Online: www.fairwork.gov.au

Fair Work Infoline: 13 13 94

Need language help?

Contact the Translating and Interpreting Service (TIS) on 13 14 50

Hearing & speech assistance

Call through the National Relay Service (NRS):

For TTY: 13 36 77. Ask for the Fair Work Infoline 13 13 94

Speak & Listen: 1300 555 727. Ask for the Fair Work Infoline 13 13 94

The Fair Work Ombudsman is committed to providing advice that you can rely on. The information contained on this website is general in nature. If you are unsure about how it applies to your situation you can call our Infoline on 13 13 94 or speak with a union, industry association or workplace relations professional. Visitors are warned that this site may inadvertently contain names or pictures of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people who have recently died.